Blends guitar passages with sonic orchestrations to present the missing soundtrack to your favorite sci-fi/horror motion picture that was never filmed. 13 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, ELECTRONIC: Soundscapes Details: Betatron 13 debut release is the fruition of a collaboration with R.W. - the handiest one armed individual ever to play only the black keys of a single octave keyboard into an arsenal of racks and Jurassic-a guitar player who has learned and played more cover tunes in bars and local clubs than anyone should ever have had to experience. Yet unique and common to both is the idealogy of science fiction created to surmount the usual existance one horrifies from daily routines. As such, the resultant self titled release Betatron 13 is reminiscent of a soundtrack invoking images of "bees in a tempest", "wind howling creatures", "women screaming for justice", "fighting guitars" each of which is blended along with "relaxing streams" and "peaceful evenings" to bring that glimmer of hope that there is indeed an end. Listening to the Betatron 13 debut one can imagine an entire movie that changes everytime you listen.
