Los Angeles based artist bringing back the music that memories are made of. Late 70's british influenced pop bliss. Welcome home. 9 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, POP: British Pop Details: Do you Remember? The songs you've heard at one time or another, that attached on to you so strongly, that when the song was heard again, it transported you back to that exactly place and time. This is what "dean" strive's to capture in each and every song that is written and recorded. It's about quality, not quanity... As an artist, I tend to take quite a bit of time completing each song. From the writing aspect to the recording of it. It's not because I like to re-do things, or try to out do myself with a performance. It's because I like to let the song grow and become what it will on it's own. Not being too serious. There are way to many things in this world that are really serious...I am not one of them. The only thing I am serious about is crafting music that I love to hear and hopefully you will to. -dean
