This four piece montage of musicians brings a mix of each band member in his own fashion. The result is a blend of playing styles and musical genres that stands out in their energetic sound. Daniel and Jon from dreaming isabelle started an older version of the band three years ago in Charlottesville, Virginia, playing for the late-night bar scene. The guys learned to sweat it out on stage for hours at a time and keep the audience alive and kicking. Then, with the addition of Chris and Hart, the band became dreaming isabelle and played its way from the bar scene into music clubs and venues. In their first album, the foursome combines the liveliness of the bar scene with a wide array of musical styles. The recordings ranges from raw up-tempo rock, to songs layered in crushing guitar riffs and drums tracks, haunting harmonies and powerful melodies.
