Hip Hop: Street Core. 13 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Hardcore Rap, HIP HOP/RAP: Hip Hop Details: The artist that can hit all angles, Hip Hops Lethal Weapon and Golden Tehk, are all aliases of Omaha emcee Max Supreme. J.Stephens Musics first artist might attribute his many names to his extensive experience and evolution in the Hip Hop genre. Born Ozzie Johnson in Omaha, he began performing in 1994 with several combinations of local artists at venues like University of Nebraskas Student Union in Lincoln and Fines Tier 3 in Omaha. Supreme continued to work with a mix of local talent, including Crossshade Entertainment and began his recording career with two tracks on Crossshades Behind Enemy Lines in 1997. He has appeared on a series of compilations since then, including Crossshades formidable 1998 record 681, which garnered national attention. He is set to release his first truly solo album, Street Gumbo. His performance history is also grown to include numerous venues in the Midwest, including many college campuses and clubs in Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska. Influences on Max Supreme include local MCs like Jay Money and legendary street lyricists like Biggie, and Tupac. But Supremes style is not truly derivative of any artist. Hes not interested in being the Next Jay Z or the next Nelly, but rather, the first Max Supreme.
