Electronica/ambient/experimental trance 12 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, ELECTRONIC: Experimental Details: Are you a person that feels the need to resonate a deeper consciousness in hopes of spreading universal enlightenment? Or maybe you are just the type of person that feels it important to understand your surroundings and enjoy your own being. Either way, the instrumental and experimental sounds of Rien will send you into another dimension where you are free to stare off into space and let your consciousness focus in on a rhythmic beat or a complex layer of sounds. Colorado local Rien has released two disks: arsenicum album, a slightly up beat album and Songs for an Urantian Mind which is strictly ambient. Together the two create a sense of wholeness from one disk to the next. If you are one that searches for a deeper sense of consciousness, meditation/contemplation, spirituality, or the search for meaning, this music will leave you feeling calm, focused and spiritually high. The artists vision with creating music is to spread enlightenment through resonance and to share what inspires him. Pretty much everything inspires me one way or another; the good and the bad alike. One day I can be inspired by the hope of universal compassion the next day driven into darkness by the thoughts of so many suffering in the world. says Rien. Take a trip through arsenicum album and Songs for an Urantian Mind and you will, without a doubt, be enlightened, relaxed and have access to unique aural dimensions.
