Old-time Appalachian dance music driven by banjo and fiddle and infused with a healthy dose of electric guitar and drums. 15 MP3 Songs in this album (60:27) ! Related styles: COUNTRY: Honky Tonk, COUNTRY: Square Dance People who are interested in Old Crow Medicine Show Hank Williams The Hackensaw Boys should consider this download. Details: For over ten years, The Jugbusters have been bringing their own unique variety of old-time country music to the New River Valley and beyond. Steeped in tradition but not imprisoned by it, the band refuses to conform to the status quo of what you might expect a square dance band to sound like. They plumb the depths of American musical history and bring back a surprising variety of dance tunes from days gone by. Whether blending vocal harmonies on classic country two-steps or setting fire to a dance floor with hard-driving fiddle tunes, The Jugbusters are sure to please both the young and the young at heart. The rhythms are infectious and the sound is big, weighing in at a hefty six or seven pieces (depending on whether you catch their traditional or their honky-tonk incarnation): with Bill Richardson on fiddle, Russ Boyd on banjo, Nicholas Polys on guitar, Casey Elder on mandolin, Liam Kelly on second guitar, Chris Printz on upright bass, and Ken Convery on drums. Hailing from Blacksburg, Virginia, The Jugbusters can be found igniting crowds at barn dances, bars, private parties and festivals across the central Appalachian mountains.
