Dear Songwriting Friend, You love music and you love to write. So do I! And like you, my ultimate goal is to write the best possible songs I'm capable of writing. How would you feel if you could turn the musical visions in your head into a reality? What if you could: * Write that beautiful love song to your girlfriend or boyfriend? * Write that perfect, angry breakup song to your ex? * Write that brilliant song of political protest? * Write what you know and feel in a way that shows off the REAL you? * And more! And what if all you need in order to do this is a little help strengthening your skills, so that your natural talent can shine through? All of this and more is possible. I'm not saying you'll turn into Bob Dylan overnight, but you will see your songwriting improve in leaps and bounds, taking you much farther than where you probably are right now. What you need right now is someone to take you by the hand and show you the tricks of the trade! "Tricks?!", you say. Indeed... There are very distinct rules and formulas that professional songwriters use to achieve the best results. You probably already know some of these rules intuitively (think back to high school poetry class). So, all you need to do is learn the basics again, apply them to your own songs and watch out for the incredible results. Once you know how the game is played, you'll
