Allegash opened for Tom Rush. Tom Rush says, "They're a great act to watch, but a hard act to follow."

10 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, POP: Folk Pop Details: Reviews Allegash opened for Tom Rush at the Meeting House in Frankestown, NH, on July 22, 2006. They received the following quote from Tom Rush.

" They're a great act to watch, but a hard act to follow." Tom Rush ...energized, vibrant, both powerful and intimate, are just a few words to describe what Jared Brown and John Magoon bring to their group, Allegash...the harmonies are great...Allegash immediately captures their audience... Marybeth Halloran, Performing Artist Series, Marlborough, NH ...Allegash provided a wonderful and rousing performance to a very appreciative audience at the Cafe in our bookshop Friday evening...we loved it! The Toadstool Bookshop, Peterborough, NH ... Allegash gave a performance at our annual event and the audience loved them! Their music touches the heartstrings and brings me back to another time and place. I look forward to attending more concerts and definitely will be watching for new CDs. Im hooked on their two CDs, Blue Moon and Ghost Song Top-rate music! Thanks guys for such an enjoyable evening. Lorraine Strube- Lafayette Artillery Comp. Allegash recently performed a benefit concert for the Wellspring Womans Shelter in our Shop, Nelsons Candy, in Wilton. Over $300 was raised with over 70 in attendance standing room only. Our deep felt appreciation to Allegash. They were awesome! Doug and Mark Nelson of Nelsons Candy, Wilton, NH Biography Jared Brown and John Magoon grew up together and have been life long musicians. Their collaboration dates back over 20 years. In 2002 they reconnected and devoted themselves exclusively to the art of songwriting. Jared says writing great songs became our obsession. Jared writes the songs while John brings his incredible musicianship to the production end of the songwriting process. They have produced two CDs; Blue Moon (which is a new title and CD cover replacing Take Me Down) and Ghost Song, and have nearly completed their third CD,

Borderline. If you would like to be placed on the Friends of Allegash emailing list please email us at info@allegash.com. You will then receive Allegash news including concert dates and notification of our new CD release, Boarderline.
