Instrumental rock guitars mixed with electronica. 10 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Soundscapes, METAL: Instrumental Metal Details: This is the 5th Circio's Rapture CD! Keeping with the electronica, but with more electric guitars. There's more jamming on this CD than any of the previous Circio CDs. Half of the songs contain mind-boggling jams - "Delusional Daydream" (actually just two guitars intermingling), "Lost In The Frequencies" (the song morphs into a Dixieland Band jam and then back into a heavy electronic jam), "Voltage Mania" (heavy intense short jam in the middle), "Photon Alert" (wah-wah guitar jam over an acoustic guitar loop), and "Orbital Chaos" (guitars and organ cut loose with energetic jam). The other tunes are cool instrumentals with melodies. "Metallic Mirage" is just that, "I'm Nuts About Her Bolts" is a high energy jazz romp with wild electric guitar lead, "Sirens Of Serenity" has some mellow steel guitar and tele-guitar (slide) tones, "Energy Of The Spheres" is reggae meets metal, and "Vapor Trails" has a beautiful guitar melody play over a ballad and then segues into a nice mellow ending with jazz guitar and flute. As always, the sonic clarity is astounding by incorporating the latest audio digital quality. No over compressing of the music. Just real dynamics. The full range of sound is heard from thundering bass to squeaky clean highs. Headphone listening is awesome! This CD is recorded and mixed digitally on professional equipment. The sonic quality is mastered in true audio fashion with little commercial compression insuring real dynamic range. The music is copied onto CDRs and the jewel cases have no shrink wrap.
