Details: Nathan Welden may appear as a laid back California native from an outsiders perspective, however Welden is a world adventurer, surfer, avid cyclist, and a highly acclaimed singer / songwriter. Adventure is always on Weldens mind. In recent years he has cycled along the entire west coast of North America. He has journeyed through Fiji, New Zealand, Patagonia, Chile, Peru, Argentina, the Yucatan Peninsula, Belize, the Swiss Alps and Thailand. His most recent venture was an arduous trek around the Everest region in Nepal. Welden finds inspiration in reaching mountain peaks, exploring untouched trails and acquiring knowledge of other cultures. While at home in San Diego, Welden spends his days gliding smoothly thorough waves along the Southern California coastline, cycling in the local mountains, and playing music. Welden is a greatly commended singer/ songwriter. While Nathan definitely has his own tone and technique, others have said that his voice is as smooth and warm as James Taylors, and his songwriting is as rich and emotional as Jim Croces. It is exceptionally rare to hear a voice that encompasses such a great deal of honesty and truth, portrayed through means of song. Nathan has been nominated for vocalist of the year by the California Country Music Awards (C.C.M.A) and the San Diego Honoring Acoustic Talent (H.A.T.) Awards. In 2006 he released his first full-length CD entitled One Step Closer to You, which was nominated for album of the year with the San Diego H.A.T. Awards. His much-anticipated second album entitled Live Your Song will be released in March, 2009. Nathan Welden is one of the most inspiring people around. His onstage charm, under the limelight, is the same offstage. He seems to have life just about figured out. Journeying through each day with intent, he lives his life fully, getting the most out of every breath.
