Details: SUITE SERENITY by Ken Jones Beautifully and wonderfully relaxing is a phrase spoken often by those who have enjoyed the peacefully tranquil sounds of Kens latest CD, Suite Serenity. He aptly describes the songs as Relaxing Instrumentals for the Busy Giver. This CD has found a welcomed listen in homes, libraries, classrooms, MP3 players, and on the road, giving to the listeners a soothing audiosphere of serenity. The tracks on this CD were all written and recorded during summer vacation days at his favorite coastline town, beautiful Crescent Beach, Florida, which is the beach of his childhood and youth while growing up in nearby Palatka, Florida. (He has another CD , Crescent Blue, that is named in honor of this same beach that includes four other songs written in that setting.) Each song is special to its creator, yet one song on this CD is especially sentimental. While the other songs have a more contemporary easy-listening flavor, the song Sentimental Jernigan, could be categorized as a relaxing slow-dance song similar to the Big Band era. Ken did not set out to write a song of that nature, but, as songwriting often goes, the final version may not be as envisioned initially. Such was the case with this song. When it became apparent that this song was different from the rest, yet still quite tranquil, Ken decided that this song would be an appropriate one with which to honor musical maestro and his friend of the last 24 years, Wallace Jernigan, a young-hearted 74-year-old Renaissance Man. Having partnered musically in many local venues with Wallace playing the saxophone or clarinet in church and around the community, Ken knew that one of Wallaces very favorite songs was Sentimental Journey. Soon the similarity in sound between Wallaces favorite song and his last name became apparent to Ken, and the choice was made for the songs Wallace-honoring title of Sentimental Jernigan. Ken is married to Beth Hagood Jones (formerly of Ocala, FL) and they are enjoying parenting their 8-year-old adopted son, Joshua. Beth is the Health Department Nurse-Manager. Ken is an educator, having taught 6th grade and 4th grade for 23 years, and now in the role of Media Specialist for the Clinch County Primary / Elementary Schools in Homerville, GA. Ken is also a Music Minister (and a former Youth Minister) at First Baptist Church, Homerville, where he has been since 1984. He credits his involvement in his home church in Palatka, FL while growing up for instilling his love of music and providing a solid foundation in musical training. Other CDs by Ken include: Simply HIS, Simply Hers, Simply Yours, Heart Strings (with songs attached), and Crescent Blue. In addition to his music on CD Baby (which is also available digitally through iTunes, Rhapsody and more), all of these CDs are available from Magnolia Street Music, 87 Magnolia St., Homerville, GA 31634 (912-487-3147). Kens email is ken061952@aol.com. Suite Serenity can be a treasured addition to your collection of relaxing, soothing sounds of serenity for the Busy Giver. * _____ * The Ultimate Source of comfort, tranquility and peace for the soul comes, not from within, nor from circumstance or ambient music, but through a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, Whose Serenity is indeed the sweetest. - KJ
