Solo classical piano, standard repertoire. 32 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Traditional Details: The album sounds Great!!! It has the quality of a performance, in the sense of overall sweep; that might be what made it such a compelling listen Allan Kozinn, New York Times Born and raised in Israel, Pnina studied at the Tel Aviv Samuel Rubin Academy and with Emanuel Krasovsky, Peter Vinograd, and Dean Elder. After 2 decades of hiatus from music, raising her three daughters, Pnina is back in full force, doing what few other female pianists before her have done, challenging J.S. Bach's Goldberg Variations. Following an exquisite recording of the piece, Pnina is working on her new album, to be released later this year. The album will include pieces by Chopin and Debussy. She played in Italy, the US and is set to tour Australia in the fall of 2007. Pnina resides with her husband and 3 daughters in Phoenix, AZ.
