

Mp3 Simon Spalding - Rambling Sailor

DOWNLOAD HERE

American and International folk songs and fiddle tunes, including sailor songs, Cajun two-step, Dutch and Scandinavian tunes, and original material. 20 MP3 Songs in this album (46:29) ! Related styles: FOLK: Sea Shanties, WORLD: Western European People who are interested in Doc Watson Stan Hugill should consider this download. Details: Simon Spalding was born and raised in San Francisco. For over 30 years, Simon has performed music in the American, European, and Asian traditions. Simon studied Ethnomusicology at UC Berkeley. He has performed sailor songs and traditional dance music throughout North America and Europe as a solo act and with a variety of folk and traditional music ensembles. His venues include festivals, museums, folk clubs, live theater, Renaissance fairs, films, recordings, and the decks of sailing vessels at sea. Simons primary instrument is the fiddle, but he performs with a stable of about 50 stringed instruments from around the world. The Rambling Sailor: Music of the Sea and of the Road Recorded in 1988, released on CD in 2007 Simon Spalding - vocals, fiddle, banjoes, nyckelharpa, crwth, hardangfele, ptit fer, bodhan, bass Mark Soderstrom - vocals, banjo (Waterbound) Rex Shaver - bones Joe Linbeck - tin whistle (Camptown Races) Gary Coover - concertina (Hornpipes) Buskers Lament and Humors of Annagassan by Simon Spalding, copyright 1988 Springar part B by Leif Sorbye The Glendy Burk and Camptown Races by Stephen Foster All other traditional, arr. Simon Spalding Engineered by Karl Caillouet Cover photo by Ira Blaustein CD layout and artwork by Susannah Kirtland Thanks to Stan Hugill, Pauline and Rhona Doyle, Chris and Rita Roche, Leif Sorbye, Bruce and Albert Daigrepoint, Jan Eriksson, Cathy Whitesides, and Joe Linbeck for tunes, instruments, and help on the original recording. Thanks to my wife, Sara Kirtland Spalding, for organizing the CD release in 2007.

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals:

MP3 In Color - In Color \(the Lamp Album\)