B.E.LAHMON AS A CHURCH MUSICIAN Over 20 years ago when I played the organ for our choir they would have never excepted my contemporary nu school style but I can understand that the church is the church and they for the most part don't care too much for change but I enjoyed working with them.

CROSSOVER TYPE SONGS The tracks on this album are all instrumental crossover tracks that will fit many different genres of songs but mostly background in easy listening laid back mellow grooves. This project is totally instrumental but there's a message in the music, so we invite you to sit back and let the music speak to your heart.A Famous composer once said in a song that (Music is a world within itself with a language we all understand) And that's a true statement indeed now when I composed these songs I was inspired to call them what I felt they were speaking to me at the time ,but you may hear something totally different all I can say is (Let The Music Speak) The inspiration for creating music for me me just never seem to stop flowing but the older I get the more mellow I seem to get I believe that these are songs of relaxation I'm 49 years old now but I've been playing in the church for over 20 years and being in the Pentecostal Church you know we got down with the praise music that was then this is now ,In these days I'm trying to mellow out with the music more.This is my 5th instrumental project and I invite you just to sit back and soak it in. Now don't get me wrong there's nothing wrong with the hype music of the younger generation . But I'm just a little bit past the stage in my life of hearing it all the time.Now I'm a keyboard player but I really like the acoustic guitar now that's a real nice and mellow instrument.This is my second Let The Music Speak project and it could go on and on because the music just continues to speak to me.
