Positive messages, rockin' grooves. A hopeful collection songs promoting peace and faith with great harmonies, guitars and all sorts of fresh-sounding feel-goods. 11 MP3 Songs GOSPEL: Contemporary Christian, ROCK: Adult Contemporary Details: Beth Schafer learned a big lesson when she won the 2006 American Idol Underground Faith Based competition. What was the lesson? That universality in songs is key. Beth's songs, although rooted in her Jewish upbringing resonated with an interfaith audience and won her fans of many backgrounds. An accomplished guitarist and writer, Beth is taking the country by storm with a band of seasoned pros; spreading a "feel good" that doesn't rely on religious dogma or have religious boundaries. If you believe in God, trust in the potential of humanity and want to bring about an era of peace, AND if you love upbeat, well-produced contemporary rock, THIS CD IS FOR YOU! Beth has played both mega-churches and synagogues, she has even played at center court for the Orlando Magic. She has graced folk festivals and national religious conferences. Schafer and her band are the real thing. As an artist, Beth stands out in clear contrast to the average folk singer, or the follow-the-latest-trend band. Her music enjoys airplay on many faith-based stations. "Build That Bridge," unites her with veteran rocker, Larry Hoppen of the band, Orleans (and the voice of the hit "Still the One"). They co-wrote and performed the title track with hopes that they could help build bridges between communities willing to begin or sustain a dialogue. Beth firmly believes that music can make things happen that can't happen comfortably around a conference table. She enjoys every opportunity she gets to share her magic with anyone on a journey toward understanding, tolerance and peace.
