Human Motion is a Chicago-based jazz quintet that blends traditional jazz language and modern musical idioms, displaying them with raw energy through the original compositions of its members. 10 MP3 Songs

JAZZ: Traditional Jazz Combo, JAZZ: Jazz Fusion Details: Human Motion, formed in the spring of 2005, is a Chicago-based jazz quintet dedicated to playing improvised music, focusing particularly on the original compositions of its members. Led by bassist/composer Jeff Greene, the quintet features trumpeter Matt Holman, alto saxophonist Taku Akiyama, pianist Jordan Baskin, and percussionist Jon Deitemyer. With widely varying influences from Charles Mingus and John Coltrane to Bjork and the Roots, each individual brings his life experiences and love of music to every performance to create a cohesive and inspired unit. Human Motion draws from tradition while looking toward the future. Their full-length, debut album, "Human Motion", is available now. For more information, please visit jeffgreenemusic.com "The Human Motion jazz quintet creates the most uniquely exciting, swinging, profound music I've heard in many, many years." -Dominic Spera Professor Emeritus/Indiana University

Trumpeter, composer, educator
