This is an Innovative Duo of Fretless Bass, Kazoo and Drums performing Fearless Kazoo Fusion. 11 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Jazz Fusion, WORLD: World Fusion Details: "The next bass virtuoso comes from a cornfield?!" - Jonathan Wood (Larry Coryell, Pharez Whitted) Nathan Fox is acclaimed as an innovator of the duo ensemble format with his simultaneous performance of a fretless bass and electrified kazoo. With the fluid foundation of Cassius Goens III on drum set, Kazukis sound is unmistakable. These two players create music that is tonally rich, youthful, and to say the least brave. On their debut album, Ring the King, Kazuki sets out to make a bold yet subtle musical statement: All music is created equal. Ranging from heavy-footed hip-hop beats to relentless math-jazz/fusion, this group leaves no musical idiom behind. The record encapsulates two young musical minds tapping into a previously untouched medium of musical expression. Their first record was recorded in two hours, each player comfortable with their first takes of the music. This is not a Britney Spears record: this is live-in-your-face and organic. This is the first light of two up-and-coming musical icons.
