A collaboration of two singer/songwriters creating lyrically rich, melody driven american folk music with plenty of harmonies. 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, COUNTRY: Country Folk Details: "Pelusa's second full-length release, Every Indication, is lyrically rich and musically diverse; an evocative and inviting collection of songs about mothers and lovers and soldiers and the road. This is an album that gets better with every listen, as the words that tumble from these songs reveal their poetry and punch, delivered within the recognizable rhythms of alt-country, rock, and folk. A fine, rewarding release from a Seattle band that deserves a wide following." - Rus Thompson, KBCS 91.3fm Pelusa is: Moe Provencher - mandolin, acoustic guitar, harmonica, vocals Mike McDermott - bass, acoustic guitar, vocals "...with McDermotts quiet scratchy baritone balancing Provenchers more assertive alto, their live performances are at once both vulnerable and bold, a foot-stomping, lonesome, wisecracking heartache of a time."
