SEO Authority - SEO Tools Management Made Easy Only By Using The Precise SEO Tools.. Can You Get Tons Of Free Targeted Traffic To Your Websites & Then Only IF You Know The Right Tools & Exactly How To Use Them! Nobody Builds A House Using A Butter Knife And A Pair Of Pliers! And You Can't Get To The Top Of The Search Engines Without The Right Tools, Either. Dear Friend, Let's keep this short, but most definitely let's make it really sweet. You need the right tools. Not just any tools, but precise, smart, traffic-grabbing tools. Why you may ask? The answer is that almost every online moneymaking venture has a few things in common. There's a website, a means to make money with the website, and people visiting the website. It's a pretty easy equation to figure out. If you lack any of those three elements, you aren't going to make one thin dime. The first two components are completely within your control. You can build the site of your choice and use it to make money in any number of different ways. Really, that's the easiest part of the whole arrangement. The problem usually centers around that last factor, visitors. Getting good traffic to a website can be a real challenge and its a struggle you definitely must win in order to be successful. You can get traffic in many different ways. You can buy it outright, but that strategy is costly and usually doesn't get you good leads (if it gets you real people at all). You can seduce it to come to your site with advertising. That can be incredibly effective, but it can also have a substantial price tag and an error in judgment can mean a complete wipeout. You can rely on links at other sites. That's a nice way to pick up a person here and there, but it can't deliver the massive influx of visitors you need to make a killing. That leaves one method. The Search Engines! Why Do You Need

Search Engines? Search engine traffic is wonderful. Think about some of its advantages: * It's free. People are voluntarily checking out your site without you paying a dime to anyone for the opportunity. * It's targeted. Those visitors are finding your site because they are intentionally looking for the kind of materials, information, products or services you provide. Every visitor is a prequalified lead. * It's massive. Millions upon millions of searches every day. Millions of users relying on search engines to find the information they need. It can feel like an infinite supply of traffic! The trick is getting your site up there toward the top of the search results when people are looking for the kinds of things you can offer them. Simply put, search engine traffic means earnings. If you'll able to generate a consistently substantial volume of traffic for your website, then you'll be in business?GOOD business?for a long, long time. It's all about building the right kind of site for maximum search engine appeal. "You can't just toss up a site and assume that Google, Yahoo and MSN are going to fall in love with and reward you with that high-volume visitor stream you want. " You ABSOLUTELY need to build your site the right way. No matter what you're building, it always pays to use the right tools. You can't build a house with a table knife and a pair of pliers. No matter how resourceful you are, you can't build an operable automobile with a soldering iron and a spatula. Yes, those examples are exaggerations. They do hammer the point home, though. You undeniably must have the right tools for the job. But for some reason, people overlook that proven morsel of common sense when it comes to building sites that will generate search engine traffic. They put together a site and hope for the best, when they might actually experience the best if they would have brought the right toolbox to the job site. That's exactly the reason why I created "SEO Authority". "SEO Authority" isn't a silly old catalog filled with multitudinous product recommendations and fluff. I'm not sitting here on the other end of this course licking my chops and hoping you're going to go out and buy a series of tools in which I have a vested interest. It's an get-to-the-point, no BS, jargon-free guide to many of the top tools available to help you learn the methods that will help you sprint to the top of the page within the search engines. They'll love your site so much that they'll send you that no-holds barred traffic. You'll be rewarded with wild profits and earnings. And beyond that, it's an examination of several popular search engine tools and it provides an honest, balanced assessment of all of them. It then goes beyond that! It also covers more than a few tools that are still floating around out there that you don't want to use but nobody has bothered to tell you that yet. "SEO Authority" has some extra-great features. It is... Written in a straightforward, conversational manner. It's not an academic tome you'll have to spend months deciphering. It's easy-to-read and makes its points clearly. Constructed to give you more than the rudimentary basics about each tool. Many people fail to use the right equipment because they don't understand why it works or why they might need it. "SEO Authority" provides that information. Designed to provide you with a broad perspective on the tools associated with building search engine-friendly sites. It covers multiple tools and doesn't focus exclusively on one aspect of the overall puzzle. "SEO Authority" is over fifty pages of rock-solid information about the things you can do and use to attract a wide and rushing river of visitors from the search engines -- without paying them for all of those hot, prequalified leads. This isn't a skimpy ten-page "report" that leaves you with more questions than answers. It's the Real Deal! When you're finished reading "SEO Authority," you're going to have your own personal toolbox filled with the things you need to build a search engine friendly site. Plus, you're going to know how to use them and why they work. That's because this guide doesn't just tell you "this is what the tool does." It also tells you whether it works, why and when you might want to use it, and supplies you with the kind of background information that ties it all together so that you can make sense of the whole process. "Let's think about what would happen if you used the right tools to build a search engine-friendly site." You would be able to spend less time spinning your wheels on search engine optimization strategies that don't do a thing. You would be able to save, spend or reinvest money you would otherwise have to pay out in advertising. Remember, search engine traffic is free traffic. You would be able to post bigger sales numbers or profits than ever before with your huge newfound customer base. That's why "SEO Authority" is here. To allow you to do those things. You can do it!
