High energy, funky, traditional Zydeco music for all ages 14 MP3 Songs URBAN/R&B: Soul, BLUES: Delta Style Details: Zydeco Force was originally formed by Robby "Mann" Robinson in 1988. After touring the "zydeco circuit" the group reached a level of success that includes five CDs, commercials (radio and television), a movie score, a number of documentaries and an interview and performance with Good Morning America. They were the innovators of changes in zydeco music that was and still is accepted by both old and young people. The group toured both the East and West Coast of the United States. They've also toured the European countries where zydeco is still a fascination for many people. They may not understand the language, but the music is what fascinates their curiosity and keeps them asking for more. For various reasons, in the early 90s, the band members decided to seek other interests, which led to the break-up of the group. Zydeco Force reunited for the new millennium. Robby and Jeffery, the band's accordionist, went to the drawing board to redesign the groups format. Successfully doing so, a decision was made to reunite and record a 6th CD. Since reuniting, the group added an additional 3 cd's to their collection, making the total of cd's 9. Zydeco music lovers may reminisce about legendary scenes of the past when the group created sounds that shook the zydeco scene. There is the traditional music brought up to date, delivered with such intensity that still entices generations of dancers to the dancehalls. Fans, new and old, will enjoy the music on the new, soon to be released, CD. The featured CD, "Louisiana Chicken Shack", has a new member. He is 7 year old Guyland Leday. Selected songs from this CD will be featured on an HBO documentary titled "Searching For A Groove" due to be released, February 2006.
