ATTENTION: Extremely Limited Availability (40 Only) Of A Copy And Paste PLR Product That Could Easily Jam Your Pockets Full Of Cash! Million Dollar Copywriter Creates A Private Label Rights Product So Freakin' Good That The Bar Has Been Raised Forever... That's right -- This might just be the highest quality PLR product ever, which could mean staggering profits for you if you're one of just 40 to act! I have to admit that my own foray into PLR a few years back had me turned off to it for a LONG time... I'm like anybody... and when I saw a chance to make fast easy money by letting someone else handle all the product creation grunt work, I was intrigued. In my mind I began counting the cash I was going to make... "Ok John, if you spend an hour tweaking this out and adding your own flavor to it, with just 2 conversions that's a fast $1000 profit!" Well, my quick math made my mind up for me. So, I logged into my handy dandy PayPal account to check the funds -- and yep, I had a spare $67 in there just waiting to be spent. $67 that was about to turn into $1000 (or so I thought)! A couple quick clicks and I was off to the download page to grab my brand new PLR! Has This Ever Happened To You? While my PC was doing the download dance, I decided I had better go grab my "eens" (caffeine and nicotine) in order to help power me through my PLR tweaking process... 20 minutes later I got back from the local convenience store, "eens" in hand, ready to buckle down, do a little work, and make some fast cash. Much to my dismay however, once I began looking through my newly downloaded PLR product, it occurred to me that I just might have made an error in my calculations on time to profit. You see... I ended up with a zip file crammed with crap. Have you ever purchased PLR only to discover that the graphics look like they were designed by a 6 year old on his etch a sketch? Have you ever dropped your hard earned cash on a PLR product to find that the Sales Letter is just 2 pages long -- and so ridiculously bad that it couldn't sell water to a thirsty man lost in the desert? Have you ever spent good money on PLR with the promise of "no effort" income, only to discover that it would cost you more money to fix what you bought than it would just to create the damn product from scratch yourself? A Chance Visit To The Gas Station Made Me Look At It All A Little Differently... Flash forward a couple years later and I'm at the local Marathon gas station filling up on gas, chips, and Mountain Dew -- and I go to pay for everything at the counter... As I step up to lay out my credit card I notice a bottle of "Marathon Man" pep pills with the local gas station owner's information on the packet. This struck me as crazy -- I mean, a local gas station that had their own pep pills. So, out of curiosity I asked the guy working there what the deal was. He mentioned that the owner Private Labeled an existing formula through a local supplement manufacturer and they kept all the profit -- apparently made a nice little chunk of change off of it too. I hopped in the car to go home and my mind began running a mile a minute -- sure I had been unlucky on my first venture into PLR, but ANYTHING could be made into PLR when you really got down to it... And that meant there was a LOT of money out there in PLR just waiting to be had. Forget About Effort And Hard Work And Just Plug And Play Your Way To Profit... Since my little gas station "awakening" I have profited handsomely from PLR by locating quality PLR, tweaking it to my satisfaction, and then selling it. Sure... these require a little effort to get them up to my standards... but they have definitely made money! I've also partnered up on PLR and PLR type membership sites and made some good coin from those over the past year as well. But 1 thing has been in the back of my mind for all this time... the "best PLR product ever"... What if I could create a product so fantastic that it could make you money (and lots of it) if ALL you did was put your payment info on the order button and send it live... What if I created a PLR product so freakin' good it was nearly bulletproof cash profit for you even if you barely lifted a finger with them? Well, you know what... That is EXACTLY what I have done for you today! Introducing: Chunk Copy With Private Label Rights For The First 40 To Act... Some marketers have been known to argue about the most crucial component of a successful and profitable launch... And there's 2 sides to the argument about which is more important -- sales copy or the product -- with one side strongly in favor of copy over the product and the other side just the opposite. Regardless of which side you stand on, one thing is for sure... if your sales copy sucks, then nobody will see your product anyway, because nobody will be buying! That's why -- when I decided to create what might just be the most plug and profit PLR product known to man... I knew the sales copy had to be the BEST! So, I didn't hire it out or pawn it off with the hopes that I would get some halfway decent Sales Letter for you... No, I wrote it from scratch myself. That's why I grabbed my top guy and told him to go to town on the Chunk Copy graphics, which you can see in the very letter you're reading right now.
