Acoustic based indie/pop rock with strong melodic hooks, combined with lyrical storytelling. 8 MP3 Songs
POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Busker's origin dates back to the mid 90's when Kevin Bannerton and Paul Dubanowitz were in the band The Blue Route. The Blue Route recorded one original full-length album in 1996 titled Feels Like Sunday. To support the album, The Blue Route toured in '96-'98 mainly in Boston and NYC. After some success and some memorable performances, sharing the stage with such artists as Mike Peters (The Alarm), Simon Townshend, Cold Water Flat and G.E Smith (Saturday Night Live) The Blue Route officially disbanded in 1999. After a bit of a layoff...the creative juices started flowing again. Paul (Lead Vocals/ Guitar) and Kevin (Drums/ percussion/ guitar) have joined with Chris Telep (from Mind the Gap) and Andy Adams to form Busker. The group has written dozens of songs over the past couple of years and has recently completed an eight song LP entitled Gargoyle. The recordings have invoked comparisons ranging from The Wallflowers, The Goo Goo Dolls, Howie Day, Guster and Ryan Adams. With a wide range of musical influences, you will find that each cut incorporates varying styles while maintaining a common "sound" throughout. Busker has been busy performing throughout the greater Boston area in 2003, playing clubs such as TT The Bears', The Kendall Caf, The Attic and The Skybar developing a strong local following. Busker has had the opportunity to perform this year with 2001 John Lennon Songwriting grand prize winner Rachael Sage, NY City's Nicole McKenna and Hard Rock Cafs 2003 Town Fair winners Focusin'. The new record is available at CDBaby.com/busker, and soon to be available through various digital distribution outlets. To support the album Busker is currently booking shows throughout the north east.
