An impressive array of traditional music from Ireland and South America with many of their own compositions. The live and fun atmosphere that can be generated during an Irish Music session is perfectly captured on this album. 9 MP3 Songs FOLK: Irish Traditional, FOLK: Celtic Folk Details: 'Arund' are a four piece Cork(Ireland)-based group that play an exciting mixture of traditional and contemporary Irish and Andean music. The name "Arund" is actually the term for a family of bamboo-like plants, one of which produces the cane from which uilleann pipes are usually made. The name, therefore, well reflects the groups music, which is dominated by the mystical sounds of the uilleann and panpipes. If your were to pick a word to describe this group's music it would be 'Diverse'. As well as an impressive array of traditional irish music from Ireland, Scotland, Brittany, Peru and Bolivia, Arund play many of their own compositions. Although the primary focus of the group is instrumental, some lively and diverse songs are also included in Arundo's colourful performance. Arund will take you on a musical journey from the high Andean Altiplano and the haunting sound of the panpipes to the valleys of Cork and Kerry and the driving music of Sliabh Luachra.....
