A fuzz-riffing, soul-rocking, lounge lizard crooning pop ode to the bitter lovers of the world. 7 MP3 Songs
POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: Von Porter (former guitarist of PDX band Drunk at Abi's) creates a fuzz-riffing, soul-rocking, lounge lizard crooning pop ode to the bitter lovers of the world with his debut CD "The Days That Time Forgot." Porter (AKA Baggage-Man) recruited some of Portland Oregon's best musicians to lend their chops to "The Days That Time Forgot," including: Chris Allen of Hungry Mob, Barry Hampton of Black Angel, Captain John of Nut Brown and Rob Rumble of Pornstore Janitor, to name but a few. Smithereens-like rock (Mary), Hendrix influenced blues (Underneath) and Curtis Mayfield inspired soul (Blessed That I knew you) are remarkably molded into a lustful atmosphere and passionate voice. With Wa-Wa pedals, fuzz guitars and church organs leading the way, "The Days That Time Forgot" takes the listener through a journey of mournful regrets, forgiving hearts and revengeful dreams. Whether crooning on the jazzy "Shadows Ballads" or moaning like "a rainy day dog" on the power ballad "Autumn" the powerful and soulful music of Baggage-Man, embraces all the nights that hearts remember to all The Days That Time Forgot.
