Larry has also had several guest appearances on shows such as CSI, JAG, and Malcolm in the Middle. He may be most recognized for these acting roles but it is his music that will make a lasting impression upon you and keep you coming back for more. Born and raised in California, Larry Bagby was exposed to the musical world early on in life watching and performing in his dads band. However, it was Larry's debut performance as "Oz" in the play The Wizard of Oz at the tender age of 8 that really got him interested in entertainment. Since that time, Larry has been writing, singing, and playing his songs at noted venues around the world. Within the last couple of years, his songs have been included in several independent film projects and he received national airplay for his vocal rendition of "America Stands Tall." Larrys sang Counting My Lucky Stars and his voice was featured in the same episode with Tim McGraws music and was the only unsigned artist featured on this Cold Case Files episode. (CBS) Larry's musical talents took him to Nashville, where he competed for a spot on USA Networks' show, Nashville Star. Larry was chosen out of 20,000 contestants to go to Nashville and compete with 56 regional finalists vying for one of 10 coveted spots on the show's fifth season. Larry was recently nominated for Best Country Artist for the LA Music awards and has recorded two albums. His music can be found on itunes or at cdbaby.com. More info can
