Now, 10 years later, Si returned to The Netherlands to record another outstanding production for Strictly County Records, with songs about the lives of working people and what's happening to them in (t)his country. With this Were Still Here release, Si also celebrates his 60th birthday. Nine teen powerful songs, soulfully performed, with Liz Meyer on harmony vocals, Joost van Es on violin, and Scott Ainslie on National slide guitar. A poetic detail and ironic understatement unknown in political folk music since Dylans early folkie days. - Geoffrey Himes,Rolling Stone Some call him a poet. Others say hes a modern-day Woody Guthrie. - Jane Ashley, USA Today Tags: folk: political folk
