Like all Albert Morris' music and lyrics, there is an explicit metaphysical outlook, peeking through the illusions of life and commenting on the emotional impact of an infinite being. 9 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Adult contemporary, SPIRITUAL: Inspirational Details: This is actually Albert Morris' first recorded album, now being re-released. River of No Time was inspired by a re-reading of Hesse's Siddhartha; Picture A Window refers to the window of the Third Eye; Home Inside My Heart is the most pop in style and yearns for that communal place with a special other; Dream Aloud in about the longing for internal desire to be manifest; Can't Fall in Love Again is a peaceful expose of one's contentment with being and living alone; Gail's Song Down Under is a rollicking live performance in an Alice Springs, Australia, pub replete with drunk audience singers, a barking dingo and a bleating sheep; Remember (It's Christmastime) is a reminiscence of lost love; I Don't Know Why is a dreamy old-style big band ballad, again about love and being loved by another; and Masquerade is a fun and comic theatrical piece about the masks of love and life.
