Featuring the award-winning protest song "What's The Matter With Ainsley", this album is filled with rich, vibrant, strong yet sensitive vocals and smart, sometimes funny, always empathetic lyrics. 11 MP3 Songs

FOLK: Modern Folk, FOLK: Folk-Rock Details: Sensitive, thoughtful, intelligent lyrics sung in a rich, vibrant, heart-tugging voice (often compared to Cat Stevens), accompanied only by six-string guitar, "Songwriter" is a raw and simple debut album that is destined to become and remain a fan favorite. Don Boivin is a Hard Working Man who is singing his life. Raised in a large family in southeastern Massachusetts (he has seven brothers and sisters), son of a union carpenter, Don spent the first couple decades of his adult life following in the family footsteps as husband, father, homeowner, and carpenter. Though the music was always inside (as a child, his siblings finally gave up trying to get him to stop humming), it was only after a less-than-amicable divorce caused the walls of convention to come crashing down that the music truly began to escape. A four month road trip around the USA helped to spread the wings of this songwriter-to-be. I am currently writing my one hundredth song. Number ninety nine was a tear-jerker called Youve Got To Let Them Know about the fragility of life and the importance of being there for a friend in need so now Im writing a more upbeat, kind of funny song about a spiteful woman who seeks vengeance on her ex-lover by stealing all his stuff (this really happened to me!) The eleven songs on "Songwriter" are not just about love and heartbreak; a war veteran named Ainsley walks the streets (Whats The Matter With Ainsley recently placed in the American Songwriter Magazine Lyric Contest and made it into the top 200 on Neil Youngs Living With War website), a businessman rides the commuter rail to success, another wonders if he wouldnt be happier somewhere else. Watch The Flowers Grow is about a nine-to-fiver who has found peace on his day off, and Outta Luck is what you are if you aint got jack. From foot-tappingly funny to heartbreakingly poignant, "Songwriter" looks like the beginning of a fruitful second career for a guy whos been there, knows how it feels, and has the ability to put it all in a song that somehow makes you feel a little better about it. Don Boivin is a real guy singing real songs about real life. People who are interested in Cat Stevens John Prine Greg Brown should consider this download.
