Electronic pop with classical and avant garde influences. 12 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Soundscapes, ELECTRONIC: Virtual Orchestra Details: The Album: Tide and time wait for no man, so the proverb goes. This is the concept behind the album: images of time and times past, painted in music and sound. Island Jam is the memory of a visit to a south sea island, while Yesterday Morning and Ou Sont Les Neiges Dantan? are more general reflections on years gone by. The passage of time on a cosmological scale is examined with In The Realm Of The Stars and March Of Time before ending in Peacefulness when The Dark Angel Dances. The grandeur and beauty of the passage of life and time set to music. Bio: Jim DeVault is a Dallas area artist who has been recording and composing since the early 80s, with more than a dozen albums currently available. His musical style is varied, ranging from electronic pop to abstract sound sculptures. Most of his albums display several examples of these different styles, making each a unique listening experience while retaining Jims own signature sound. In addition to his music, Jim is also an independent filmmaker and has scored music for other filmmakers works as well as his own.
