Well all im gonna say is I love Rap music I love it!!! I love the feeling I get when I pop a new CD in the deck and it bangs and the lyrics are Tight!!! I love that sh*t!!!! thats the same feeling that I want to give every one that listens to my sh*t. The thing that I hate is today 88 of the game all sounds the same. Im sick of it!!! But I will never stop loving Hip-Hop. I think its gonna be great when im 80 years old and all the oldie stations will be playing rap. I got a system in my ride that is BUMPIN!!!! As soon as I got my cd back from the masterers I threw it in the deck and got goose bumps expesially the song "Stop lookin" That song bangs you can hear the bump for miles. Its got kind of an old west coast beat to it followed with nice lyrics. Ive been making rap music since 1996. I started out by going to radio shack and buying a karioke machine and a cheap $150.00 key board thats it! Me and my brother would spend hours making song after song I would say i probably have about 500 complete songs on tape from that time No JOKE!!! Then we got a Job in San Fransisco so I went out and bought a Rolland Digital 8 Track Recorder, A Rolland Drum Machine and a Korg Rythm Maker. Thats when really found our sound and style and the soungs started sounding good I mean other people besides us acually liked it! BUT it still didn't have that proffesinal major label sound that I was looking for you know the beats were good and the lyrics were good but it didn't sound like a store bought CD. So thats when I decided I was gonna spend a long time making tight beats I went out and bought a Korg Triton and an Aki to go along with my Rolland drum machine and I spent 2 years making beats 2 YEARS!!! thats a long time just making beats man I didn't go to the clubs or try to pick up women I JUST MADE BEATS Wrote LYRICS THATS IT!!!! then when I had enough for a couple of albums I send all the beats to Xtreme Audio to have them mastered properly.

Then I spent the next year going to 6 different studios all over the US 1 in Chicago, 1 in Pittsburg 3 in the San Francisco Bay Area and even 1 in Montana (I traveled alot doing shows and working for AT&T) Those studios cost an average of $50.00 per hour i spent over 3 G's in those things!!!! So now I had 21 tracks for a CD and now needed to get it mastered totally I did that and also got it replicaed so that it would be 100 professional. Hence LMG 7 - The LunniTTic MathmaTTical Genius. I met Kelly G. Host of BET music Videos and he said I have a Hot name I should brand it. Any ways Hennessey and Coke is my Club song that girls like. War Killz Kids is my I hate George Bush song and One 2 Three is my hardcore song and B wit U is my love song Buy this album you won't be disapointed I promise there will be at least one song (if not more) that will fit your style PEACE- LMG 7
