13 MP3 Songs GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel, GOSPEL: Traditional Gospel Details: Nancy has been singing almost from the time she could talk, rumor has it, but it would be many years before she would make her first "public" appearance at the age of seventeen in a college musical production. Thus began her foray into the world of music and theatre. While at college, she starred in every production that the school put on during that time. Graduating with a Business Degree, she continued to star in various community and regional theatre productions. Nancy enjoys singing all types of music, which accounts for the huge variety she has tackled. With three and one half octaves to her range, her clear sopranos sweet, pure tones are duly complimented by her rich, mellow alto. She has performed in the areas of jazz, big band/standards, Broadway/show tunes, classical music, and adult contemporary pop, all to much acclaim. She even had a one-year stint as the lead singer for a rock band! Born with a good ear, she has thrived in the environment of vocal harmony combos in jazz, pop and classical styles. She herself has done much of the vocal arranging for her original songs and recordings, constructing dense and complex harmonies and textures. When Nancy was in her mid-twenties, she had a spiritual awakening, committing herself to Jesus Christ. She began turning the poems she was writing about this experience into songs; this led to the beginning of a Christian Music Ministry that has been alive and well for several years now. Like many people, it was a painful experience that had drawn her closer to God, and she wanted to share with others how real the help of Jesus was during this time and what a difference it made for her. Over the last years, she has devoted much of her energies and abilities toward reaching out to people, Christian and non-Christian, to deepen or awaken their understanding and relationship with the Lord. Her style is gentle and inviting; many people have experienced the opening and healing of their own hearts as a result of her music, and the way that she communicates it. Although she has had no formal voice training or music schooling, she loves to sing and she considers her ability to do so a gift from God, and a great privilege. "When I sing, I feel the pleasure and joy of His Presence..." Her hope is that you will, too!
