He dreamt that he was a child again, back in the little town they used to live in. He was a boy of seven, walking one holiday with his father outside the town. The afternoon was grey and sultry, the place just as he remembered it, except that the dream was more vivid than his recollection. He saw the little town as clearly as though he held it in his hand; there was not a single tree anywhere, except for a little wood very far away, dark against the horizon. "

Raskolnikov's Dream is a melodic electronica project from Greece. Thus far, there has been only one album, Uriel, which you can buy from the official site. The pieces are a mixture of ambient, IDM, synth-pop and my own special taste :) The name was inspired by Raskolnikov, the main protagonist in Dostoyevsky's Crime and Punishment. In the first part of the book (the crime), Raskolnikov has a terrible dream. I was inspired by this most graphic scene in the book, to give this name to my project. I hope that this name can describe the sounds I make :) You can find more about Raskolnikov's Dream, listen and buy the WHOLE album in both 320kbps and FLAC format for a better price at the official site at raskolnikovsdream.com

Furthermore, Raskolnikov's Dream is the creator of two more sites. The first one is Musikality Net, a site for independent musicians, with tutorials and articles on various subjects, like music theory, software and promotion. The other one is Encefalus, a psychology site with analyses on various subjects. Please leave
