Details: Steve Hill Old Guitar From Hubbard, Texas, Steve Hill has always had a passion for music, which inspired the completion of his album, Lariat in 2003. His father, Walker K. Hill Sr. was his hero. Steve wrote each song while staying at his parents home helping his mother care for his ailing father. Steve valued his fathers input. Sadly, the master CD arrived the day his father passed away, and he was unable to hear it. Steve played two songs at his funeral. Steve says, My Dad is still my hero! Steves dear friend, Ole Sirjord, was another inspiration. Fittingly, Old Guitar is a tribute to him. Steve met Ole while working at his lumberyard. Each day, Ole would teach Steve to play the guitar. In 1975, Steve and his friend, Lisa, were asked to compete in a State Music Competition. They began playing at various convention centers with 400-500 people at each venue. At seventeen, they performed at the Houston Astrodome with 6,500 people in attendance. From that moment on, Steve knew he wanted music to forever be a part of his life.
