Relaxed dance, lounge music 4 MP3 Songs in this album (14:22) ! Related styles: ELECTRONIC: Lounge, URBAN/R&B: R&B Pop Crossover Details: Superflex (real name Stephano Bel) started writing his own beats with a Roland R8 drum computer at the age of sixteen. Eventually, he enrolled in the School of Audio Engineering in Rotterdam, where he graduated. In the beginning of the 20th century Superflex had a strong preference for dance music, particularly Trance. This is reflected in his own music productions. A project in this genre is called In the air. This song received 7 awards, including the award for best programming overall and best production in dance. In 2005 Superflex started collaborating with the Dutch female singer Karin Loeffen, and created the songs Hunt and You. Along with Still Water, these songs can be found on his first debut mini-album. This cd was released in October 2005. Another highlight of 2005 was signing a promotional contract with MCM Global Team Ltd. They are music industry consultants and involved in projects with artists such as BLF and Van Morrison. The involvement of MCM Global Team Ltd. generated various prestigious musical projects for the year 2006. Recording a track in Ireland with Ronan Keatings producer Larry Hogan was one of them. During 2007 Superflex continued refining his skills on music production of pop, R&B and dance music. Superflex received radio airplay in the Netherlands on a weekly basis, climbed the top 3 of several MP3 download shops and launched his Merchandise in Utrechts trendy record store "Revenge". 2008 will be a promising year with an increase in radio airplay and the release of 2 EPs.
