Details: This San Francisco Bay Area based band was formed in 1993 by singer/songwriter Andy Zamenes and bassist Michael Tingen. Tinman has performed primarily in Northern California, extensively in San Francisco. Tracks from their first CD entitled Beast received air play on SF Bay Area local/college radio stations. The music of the self-titled CD "Tinman" released in 2000, is reaching an increasing number of people via the internet on CD Baby and garageband.com

Band Quotes: Andy Zamenes- guitars, lead vocals "Sometimes songs come to me part by part or by section, but there are those times that a whole song will come to me at once. It tends to happen in the morning just before dawn. A new melody or words, or both will wake me up; and before I realize it, I've got new song. I truly consider it a blessing." Jay Dold- drums, vocals "When I first came out to California, I was on a definite jazz jag. I played on and off with some rock groups, but kept going back to jazz full-on, or at least on the side. Eventually, after doing mainly jazz for a few years, I decided that I missed hitting things hard and that I wanted to get into a rock scene again. I auditioned with these guys and found that we had a lot of shared musical references, and I understood their humor. The rest is history."

Industry Quotes describing Tinman and their music: "Rich, layered, well written songs that intricately weave themselves, as if the band was reading us a story from the book of Tinman" Vince Reese - Sasquatch Entertainment (booking agent for The Quarternote - Sunnyvale, CA) Club Alto has for the past 4 years showcased local musicians. In that 4-year period, no band has brought larger crowds to the Club Alto studios. The energy around Tinman's music and fans is contagious." Sean Curran - (producer/host - Club Alto- Palo Alto, CA)
