Freelancing is a huge business and as the internet grows then more and more people will need help to grow their websites and businesses. This is a huge opportunity right now! People all over the world are trying to make money online and they all need help to do all sorts of things that they either struggle with (like installing a blog) or just hate doing (like social bookmarking or writing articles) and they are willing to pay YOU to do it for them. The great thing is most marketers online now have a portfolio of websites and they keep growing them and adding new ones, so once you have locked in a few customers who are happy with your work then you can count on them coming back for more and more from you! You don't need any whizzy tech skills or to be a professional writer either - I am going to show you all sorts of jobs you can do so you can pick the ones that suit your skills and how you like to work, check out all this great stuff you are about to learn: 23 different services you can offer (something for everybody and a great list which allows you to expand your business at record pace!) How to look like a pro in no time so you blow all your competitors out of the water even if you haven't even started yet! The 2 step system to get those all important first customers, then how to get people coming back for more and more... The problem with freelance marketplaces that leaves most freelancers begging for scraps, and the places to go so you cut out the middlemen and jump straight into a lake of hungry customers (this is hot!) A sneaky system you can use to ride the success of others and get an easy flow of work for years to come... One technique you can use to stand out against all other freelancers and literally have people throwing work at you! (why don't other freelancers do this??) The 3 ways to get work and why 2 of them are the easy street to being broke... How to expand your services beyond just freelancing so you can be earning $30 - $50 per article... and so much more! This isn't smart, it isn't sexy - but damn it works! Let's face it, making money online is hard, there is so much to learn, so much to do, when you are first starting off and you see so little coming back for all your hard work then you start to wonder why you should even carry on. Wouldn't it be better to be paid to learn? That is what freelancing can offer you, a way to develop all the skills you need to dominate markets online but while getting paid to do it! As you build up your list of services not only will you be learning all the skills you need to make money online with your own sites, but you'll also be building relationships with other marketers which can be invaluable later on when you have your own products and sites! Do you want to struggle like everyone else and give up, or make real money while laying the foundations for huge success? I know people who have started off freelancing and have quickly built up their business and reputation and are now making a killing with their own products and their own sites. Your first successes, your first real cash that you make online, it helps to spur you on and give you the drive you need to go out and achieve bigger and better things. Whereas most people get beaten down again and again by awful products and just can't get the energy up to carry on. I think freelancing is the best way to start an online business.
