Slipped Disc swing tune in 12th position Heres a great old Benny Goodman classic arranged for the diatonic harmonica in 12th position. If you have yet to explore 12th position on the harmonica, this is a fun one to start with. While its a bit challenging, its really not as hard as it sounds. The melody of this tune is made up of a number of arpeggios associated with 12th position. The lesson includes tablature for the melody along with two variations of the A section. Also included is a sheet diagramming all of the arpeggios to warm up with. Three practice rhythm tracks at varying tempos are also included. Bending, but no overblowing is required. We are using a Bb harmonica for this forty minute lesson.
