Chocolate Seastorm may have slipped off the radar in the past few years but this collection of wonderfully fun and loose covers, originals, and live takes makes the wait worthwhile. 13 MP3 Songs in this album (44:04) ! Related styles: POP: California Pop, ROCK: Retro-Rock People who are interested in Zero 7 Burt Bacharach Bitter:Sweet should consider this download. Details: As a follow up to their debut Dive In, Chocolate Seastorm releases a two albums at once with a set of covers and rarities in Swim and Float. If youve ever heard them live, youve heard most of this before. Continuing with their retro-infused brand of pop and rock, Chocolate Seastorm mines a reserve of recordings to bring a fresh take on songs were familiar with and some were not. Swim starts off with the Zero 7 hit Let Go but this version is a bit more uptempo pop and rock with the pulsing 80s beat and an underlying drum loop. The loops continue on the next track, the Madonna anthem, Ray of Light but with the softer sweeter edge of Alanna Vicentes voice and Chocolate Goodness. My favorite track has to be the Oasis classic Wonderwall thats been covered every which way but never with trombones and a wink to Chicagos 25 or 6 to 4. This shows the band taking a well know song and making it sound fun and unique. Things get going with a few original songs starting with the punkish Trippin that moves along with a distorted bass line and the lyric some people walk with a slunch. Whens the last time you said slunch? Moving on to the Latin Rock flavored tale of loneliness and love Missing You pushes the tempo to the next level including a Lonely Bull style trumpet line. Band member, producer and all around musician, Dave Merendas funky retro Bari sax treatment of Waves a tale of surfing and decisiveness switches things up with a dance tune worthy of any downtown club. We move on to a live track, Funky Nassau culled from one of their first gigs in Los Angeles. A loose but sincerely funky version of this early 70s Bahamanian classic which is repeated at the end with a equally funky studio version. Swim is capped off with another group of classic well-knows songs Joe

Jacksons Its Different For Girls takes on a new female POV with Alannas vocals. The Lemon Pipers hit Green Tambourine is made modern and the 60s classic Fortune Teller has an 80s vibe. Chocolate Seastorm may have slipped off the radar in the past few years but this collection of wonderfully fun and loose covers, originals, and live takes makes the wait worthwhile.
