Country with blues and pop influences. 10 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Rock, COUNTRY: Country Pop Details: Marty Lamar is a prolific and gifted singer/songwriter in the vein of Collin Raye and Doug Stone. His special blend of country, blues and pop influences give him a sound you can't help tap your feet to. You'll find yourself singing along to songs the first time you hear them. Not only is the music great, the lyrics hold important messages that we can all appreciate; songs about life that will cause you to reflect, laugh, and cry. Sorry, no cheatin' or drinkin' songs, just great songs with positive messages for a world that could use a little good news. As a songwriter, Marty has penned songs that have hit the national and international charts. In 2002, his song If It's In His Will climbed to number 11 in the United States. Also in 2002, his songs If It's In His Will and With Open Arms were the 18th most played songs in Europe for several months. Amazed reached number 3 on Internet radio in the U.S. in 2003. Marty's powerful songwriting and unique vocal style grabbed the attention of Producer Dick McVey (dickmcvey.com) in Nashville, TN. McVey has worked with such notable artists as Holly Dunn, Tracy Lawrence, Vince Gill and country legend George Jones. In November, 2003, Marty and Dick had their first meeting. At this time in his career, Marty was feeling frustrated and was contemplating quitting the music business altogether. Dick McVey, convinced of Marty's viability as a singer, songwriter and entertainer, encouraged Marty to keep going and not give up. Renewed and inspired, Marty began writing new songs and started a new CD recording project in Dick's Nashville based studio. The result is a collection of ten of the best songs Marty has ever written. The self-titled CD is due for national release on Sound Knowledge Records in July 2004. James West Foster, President of Sound Knowledge Records, says, "Choosing the right song to release as a single was extremely difficult. I love every song on this CD!" Be sure to add this one to your collection of favorite CDs. Marty resides in Minnesota with his wife and five beautiful children.
