From Inside the CD: The Ocean brought all life to this planet. The Ocean is the great mother of the watersheds of earth - without which we could not live. The oceans of the world touch every continent, every people, every culture on our planet. They accept us all regardless of color, custom, language or belief. Much like the ever flowing rivers of the world, we take on different names and forms until we are ready to go home - to the place we began - our One Source - the Ocean of Being where life can always begin again with hope, love and life. These are my tone prayers and sound poems offered up in honor and respect of the wisdom of the ocean waters. This music served to heal me and revive me from the devastating hurricane seasons of 2004 and 2005 where we lost our home - so I dedicate them to all who are in need of peace, tranquility and healing in times of struggle, transition and transformation. Breathe, release, listen and let go. Although all pieces are instrumental the listener can follow along the meditative journey of self-discovery through the liner notes: SURFACING Arising from the deep, I find myself floating in oceanic bliss. OPEN WATER As far as the eye can see, There is simply sea... I am free. MOONLIT SEA Moonlight dancing on endless ocean, shimmering diamonds in candlelight. I am lost in beauty... FINDING FOREVER I drift in dreamlike silence breathing in this spaciousness from which we come, and to which we return, touching and finding forever. DIVING DEEP I dive deep, over my head... into the endless depths of the sea, exploring the expanses lying below the surface of me. OCEAN Peace moves in waves here... No worries, no fear... only oceanic awareness, being and bliss. ANOTHER WORLD Deep beneath the surface there lies another world... intimate, yet wholly other... I lie suspended in vastness as all I think I know, melts away... TRANSFORMATION Boundaries dissolve, heart beats on... Emptiness dances me anew... Cleansed, renewed, transformed, I am no longer who I used to be. REMEMBER Remembering, I quietly fall into memories of other places, times and journeys... yearning once again...to be... IN SEARCH OF HOME There is an ancient echoing in my heart, voices of ancestors, calling me home... An inward yearning takes hold, and I begin again. HORIZON Off in the distance, there are dolphins jumping, birds singing, as I sense a new day, a new life and a new world, realizing new life lies on the other side of forever.
