Details: The Hollyfelds Autobiography Holly rhymes with golly, Felds rhymes with welds. Once there was a grown man who lived in a closet. Well, it wasn't a real closet. He only used the closet as a secret entrance to his underground lair of steam tunnels where he was able to pursue his interests in math and science with no interruption from the outside world. And he wasn't a real man, only a character in the 80s teen movie Real Genius. What is real is that more than 20 years after the film was released, a band in Denver would name themselves after this memorable character. His name was Hollyfeld... Lazlo Hollyfeld. Lazlos Denver descendants, calling themselves The Hollyfelds, departed from the musical style of the 80s film from where they took their name, and instead went for a more traditional sound. The Hollyfelds take classic country, rock, and pop, put it in a pot, add a touch of folk and bluegrass, and baby, they got a stew going. It is music that, as Westword magazine puts it, splits the difference between alt-country and the genre's mainstream, and contains just enough of the whiskey and heartache that makes great country music. The Hollyfelds (henceforth referred to as we or our) started with a marriage and then moved on to other instances of destiny. How we all came together is pretty boring. Husband and wife musicians...blah blah blah...met boy and girl musicians...blah blah blah...remembered poker buddy musician...bob loblaw...band formed. In May of 2006 we officially formed and quickly recorded our EP, File Under H For Toy. Soon after we started playing shows around Colorado, mainly in the Denver area, but we also rocked Laporte pretty hard. Then, in October of 2007 we trekked to the Ohio studio of producer Ric Hordinski to record our debut full length. Grammy nominated Hordinski, best known for his work with artists such as Over the Rhine, Victoria Williams,

Robbie Fulks and David Wilcox, recorded and produced the album entitled Saratoga, which was released in Feb of 2008 to very favorable responses. Wildys World blog proclaimed the album to be one of the top releases of 2008, saying it was one of the finest alt-country albums of the past 10 years. . .a musicians dream. Our hometown arts weekly, Westword, awarded us with the 2008 music showcase award in the Country/ Alt-country category, as well as enthusing: Throughout the album, the deft, soulful musicianship of all five Hollyfelds stand out, but its Eryns and Kates stunning harmonies that make Saratoga an utterly delightful listen. . . Responses such as these led to us playing with a number of respected artists such as: The Be Good Tanyas, Split Lip Rayfield, Drag The River, The Eli Young Band, Slim Cessnas Auto Club, The Railbenders, and Bobby Bare Jr., as well as to tour dates in Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico and Wyoming. In addition to a number of great shows being planned for 2009, including a tour of the Southwest, we will release our new CD on April 3. We are very excited about the new disk, a 5 song EP entitled Black Heart Blue. We recorded in Denver, returning to Brian Hunter at Mousetrap Studios, who recorded File Under H For Toy. After recording, the tracks were mixed and mastered by Masaki (known for his work with Black Rebel Motorcycle Club) in his San Francisco area studio. We are very happy with the record and cant wait for you to hear it! Our main goal for 2009 continues to be getting people to pronounce and spell our beautiful name correctly. Just remember...there is no i in "team" or in "Hollyfelds," but there ARE three Ls. THANK YOU FOR CHECKING OUT THE HOLLYFELDS! WE APPRECIATE IT! TheHollyfelds- TheHollyfelds@gmail.com We are: Eryn Hoerig (Vocals, Autoharp, Ukulele and Piano), Kate Grigsby (Vocals, 6 and 12 String Guitar,Banjo, Autoharp and Mandolin), Tim Mallot (Dobro, Mandolin and Lead Guitar), Sam Spitzer (Drums, Cowbell and Accordion) and Keith Hoerig (Bass).  What others are saying about The Hollyfelds, and their previous release, Saratoga: Winners of the Westword Music Showcase award in the Country / Alt-country category. Saratoga listed as one 2008s top releases by Wildys World Music Blog, coming in at #11. The Hollyfelds have made one of the finest alt-country albums of the past 10 years. . . Saratoga is a musicians dream. . . Eryn Hoerig and Kate Grigsby could stand on a Denver street corner in a blizzard and sing the menu from a hot dog stand and people would line up to listen. Their intertwining voices create harmonies that are otherworldly. Add to this one of the tightest and most talented classic country/Appalachian Folk bands between two oceans and some amazing songwriting and you have one amazing album. . . Wildys World Blog Throughout the album, the deft, soulful musicianship of all five Hollyfelds stand out, but its Eryns and Kates stunning harmonies that make Saratoga an utterly delightful listen. Their honeyed voices contain just enough of the whiskey and heartache that makes great country music. Westword The Hollyfelds sing and play with a conviction and sincerity that's refreshing to hear." Slipcue.com The Hollyfelds' tunes, so ably and beautifully performed, speak to us on some deep level and almost instantly restore that credibility that I haven't seen for years. Reverb / The Denver Post . . .emotional yet accessible, with just the right touch of twang. Westword THANK YOU FOR CHECKING OUT THE HOLLYFELDS! WE APPRECIATE IT!
