

Mp3 Dave Bootle - I'm In Trouble

DOWNLOAD HERE

A blend of Adult Contemporary, Soft Rock and Blues. These piano based male vocal songs influenced by artists like John Farnham, and Billy Joel reflect an intimate and unique approach to pop songwriting. 9 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Soft Rock, EASY LISTENING: Adult contemporary Details: In his late teens, Dave came to a fork in his multi-optioned career path. Having been training with Torontos York University Gymnastics team and given the opportunity to try out for the Canadian Olympic Squad, he had also been quite successful singing and playing piano on stage at several local bars. His choice was to make music and entertainment his priority. Shortly after taking his solo show on the road, opportunity knocked once again when he accepted an offer to be an Actor/Stunt Performer for a theme park stunt show, and in just two seasons his leadership and athletic proficiency helped land him a seat in the Directors chair in Sydney, Australia. While writing, directing and performing in the Australian production of Don Quixotes Great Pirate Attack, the evenings were left wide open for Dave to exercise his talents as a singer/songwriter. His down-under accomplishments include honing his solo skills, and the formation of a band known as "Dave Bootle the Producers," a tight aggregation of competent musicians performing Dave's Aussie-written originals. Among those is a track entitled "Australia," which his critics and fans agree could be a tourism anthem. Even though his first love was music, Dave couldnt seem to stay away from his gymnastics roots. When not performing solo or with The Producers, Dave found himself working as a stunt man with a Sydney based agency on Television commercials and Australian and American film productions. If he wasnt jumping from a 75 foot cliff into rough seas, falling through a trap door with a noose around his neck or engaging in a high speed police chase, you would probably find him setting himself on fire in practice for the next big stunt! Coming from a strict gymnastics background, he generally aced all the familiar big screen stunt work with the same professionalism he employs on any musical project. Four years Down Under and the time had come once more to decide on a career path; music or movies. That decision came easily after having a brush with death on a stunt that had gone terribly wrong. While grasping a pulley attached to a wire strung between two multi-story buildings, the apparatus collapsed sending Dave plummeting sixty feet only to land on a wrought iron fence which ultimately saved him from another sixty foot fall to bare concrete! His injuries were enough to convince him to leave the stunt business and return to Canada in late 1988. Thousands of his fans are glad he did. Dave took on music full time and while perfecting his professional repertoire in southern Ontario, Canada, where he quickly became known for his big sound and outrageous antics on stage, he also ventured to write and produce his first album of original tracks. The result was the title track "I'm In Trouble," along with an eclectic collection of Pop material that showcases Dave's versatility as a writer, vocalist, musician and producer. The CD was supported by a powerful video of "I'm In Trouble," and the artful treatment of "Baby Come Back", both of which drew critical acclaim thanks to airplay on MuchMusic television. Dave also appeared on CITY-TV's popular "Breakfast Television" on two occasions. His live performances prompted host Ann Rohmer to exclaim "Oh, how fresh Dave" and "How original!" Sentiments shared by all. Dave then gave a charitable performance for the annual Terry Fox Run. The outdoor venue was packed with an estimated 10,000 people participating in the festivities and the run for Cancer. This was followed by several months of club dates all over southern Ontario, seriously promoting "Im In Trouble." Dave then took his now highly refined act to Bermuda and never looked back. From house-band at "The Cock Feather" to the still-running headline act at "Henry VIII Pub and Restaurant," Dave continues to delight an international audience, and travels to all corners of the globe on private invitations. Dave Bootle possesses a killer comic presence, and a versatile, rangy and appealing voice. His big sound is meticulously crafted by Dave, personally. His amazing background sequences are envied by his peers, and greatly appreciated by his audiences. These are just some of the reasons for his enduring popularity.

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals:

MP3 In Color - In Color \(the Lamp Album\)