"An excellent collection of the early Audiogrill releases, including the controversial Crazy Days. Lots of great guitar work and the highly rated guitar blues instrumental Lost Monument and the entertaining What Yo Mama Said. 13 MP3 Songs ROCK: Instrumental Rock, BLUES: Guitar Blues Details: Crazy Days was the debut album for Audiogrill. The CD was released locally at first and then due to the frequent request this CD was re-released. The songs are written by Bruce N. Baker and cover the years from 1997 to 2001 and has a bonus track of a song that was a practice cut in the studio done in 1982. It's a really good view of how this band developed and a must have for any Audiogrill Fan. A new CD is in the works with songs from 2002-2005 and should be released fall of 2005. Many styles are represented on this CD, including some raw guitar leads on Empty Pictures to the softer more acoustic based song As I Knew Him. Some of the most popular cuts include What Yo Mama Said (A Ska Reggae song with vocals) and Lost Monument (a very bluesy Supertrampish guitar based song). Also found on this CD is the hilarious Crazy Days song. As was said by a local music critic "An excellent creative mix of ideas from a musician that never sits still. This band is hard to nail down but one thing is for sure, each song is a new surprise and holds a lot of talent. It's a great treat seeing how this musician developed over time. I definitely enjoyed listening to this CD (over and over) and keep switching favorites songs. I expect a lot from this band in the future! A must have for any Audiogrill Fan" Eric Hartmann
