Eclectic Rock in the Highest Order 13 MP3 Songs ROCK: Modern Rock, POP: Beatles-pop Details: Perhaps the most important Asian-American rock group to spring out from Jersey in the past 2 years, Bleud continues their trek toward the top of the scene with the release of their debut album "Musings of a Caffeine Addict". The band's rise to prominence in the Asian-American rock scene in the New York/New Jersey area is nothing short of meteoric. Having been formed only in 2003, the group has played almost all the hot clubs in the metro and continues to amaze their followers with their catchy, original songs and compelling live performances. The band recently made waves internationally, when 2 of their songs made it to the hit stations in the Philippines: "Bye Bye Na", and "Hello My Friends, Hello". Bleud even made a music video for the later, to satisfy the needs of their Philippine fans. Now with the release of their debut album, it is expected that the band will further climb up the Asian-American scene and maybe get a chance to crossover the elusive US manistream.
