Emo-jazz-mic-funk; a soulful melancholic note of thought and feel 15 MP3 Songs JAZZ: Free Jazz, JAZZ: Smooth Jazz Details: I began rhythm classes at age 5. We tapped out patterns on a 4x8 panel repeating our instructors patterns, school orchestra thru school. 1st band called Untamed which best describes us, young and wild performing hard rock, r&b soul in the late 60's, opening act for various artists as Stevie wonder, Ohio players, Gladys Knight, The Silvers, Curtis mayfield, Funkadelics to name a few. In late teens began playing fusion and jazz. I've been writing music since I was 11. We all express our thoughts and feelings in one way or another. one way I express is in music. In 1995 I began writing my own songs. 1993 was the year I began to put together a series of works. the music was spontaneous, pouring out so quickly I almost could'nt keep up with it. Today I have a library of a few hundred songs in jazz, rb hiphop, dance, and ambient expressions of my life as I live and have lived. In the pause for cause, imagine going on with your day and all of a sudden theres an interruption, a break something that needs attention right there right now, you stop, attend to it then return to what you were doing before the pause for cause. Have you ever had a dream that was so vivid so intense that it woke you from sleep to stay with you in a way that changed your mind or gave you a sense you hadn't had before. Thats what even in my sleep did for me, so vivid so strong that awoke to record all of it's parts in 1 session. Time of nite is just that, it was that time of nite when at times things are quiet and calm when my writting is at peak that I wrote this song. In the wind, thinking out loud without speaking about it, letting love go from heart to heart in the wind. my music, my life. I thank Korg corporation for the midi that allows me to play all the instruments that you hear. Among all the artist that have inspired me 2 stand out the most, George Duke and Billy Cobhan. I thank them for rhythm and soul.
