URBAN/R&B: Contemporary urban, POP: Today's Top 40 Details: DYANE DYANE Dyane is a versatile bilingual singer/songwriter/performer for different genders of music including Cumbia, Reggaeton, Latin Pop, Dance, and R&B. Born in Canada, of an Italian father and of a Guatemalan mother, Dyane always performed in school events, competitions and contests as she grew up. She also received a variety of awards for many performances and also appeared on several TV shows in Guatemala, Canada and the United States. Dyane has been fortunate enough to travel to many countries outside of the United States, inclusive of Brazil, the Philippines, Italy, Mexico, Venezuela, Cuba, and Canada. Traveling with her father during her adolescent, she managed to perform in many events, winning several awards along the way. She also appeared on TV shows in Canada, California and on the popular Spanish TV network Telemundo. She finally decided to settle down in the San Francisco Bay Area, where she presently resides, and go after her true love, her music. After settling in California she met many friends and contacts in the music scene which led her to Marco Montoya, a very talented musician, producer and arranger. After meeting with Marco they immediately started working on the production of Dyane's first full length album. After some long hard work, Dyane is done. Thus, after years of being asked by her fans when she would be coming out with her own album, she now can tell them that March 1, 2007 is the scheduled date of her first CD release. This production includes Cumbia, Pop-Cumbia, some Latin Pop and Reggaeton. The song entitled "Te Quiero (Reggaeton)" has already been chosen for a Reggaeton compilation album called "Meggatón 2006 Volume 1" currently on iTunes. Dyane had concurrently worked on other productions and collaborations with other artists while working on her own production. This is something she will continue to do now that her first album has been released. One of these collaborations is with her very good friend, singer/songwriter Mona Attia Shirk. Together they have already collaborated on many projects that are both beautiful and inspirational, not to mention recording out of a great Digitsound Studio, run by Mauricio Acevedo. Also coming up in June/2007 she will be performing in several Festivals, including 152nd st. Festival in the Bronx, and 116th st. Festival in Manhattan, New York. Dyane is anxious to follow up her album release by continuing her dynamic, live on stage, performances in order to bring her music to the entire world. Her drive, passion, and determination will keep her moving forward making great music for years to come. Her inspiration and life long goal is to bring joy to people through her music.
