Most of Paul's music is original, with an occasional track thrown in the mix written by someone else. In the case of "Real Grand", the 2007 release from PRS Aloha, every song is original, except for the last one -- Aloha Oe -- which is written by Queen Liliuokalani, the last monarch of Hawaii. Paul has never seen the music for the song. This is his arrangement done completely by ear. "Real Grand" is Paul's third commercial release. Other music by Paul Schoberg is available on CDBABY.COM, and includes "old recordings" of Paul's songs from about 1998 on an album called Aloha Au Ia Oe, which means "I Love You" in Hawaiian. Also on CDBABY.COM is "Sunrise", a collection of music including the world-famous song "You Can't Make A Beer In The Jungle", the only song to-date where Paul sings.
