Eclectic, (hence the name Aggregate) Acoustic/Electric songs. Great lyrics, Vocals. guitars. Includes the single: Paris Under Covers. Never a dull moment on this one. 19 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Ruined Choir (Shakespeare sonnet #73) released "Aggregate" in 1995. It is comprised of nineteen acoustic/electric songs in the Pop-Rock-Folk genre, which change style each selection. The lyrics are introspective, whimsical, and satirical, socio-political, story telling and insightful. Combine all that with the fine vocal harmonies of Steve and Nate; Aggregate is sublime. The group was started by Steve McLalan, who is featured on CD Baby with his solo guitar-instrumental, The Mustard Suites. Be sure to check that out; as it is a fine piece of work, as well. Also featured on Aggregate, is Nate Kennerly, vocals, guitar, Craig Lehman, Bass, and Eric Heinly on drums. Although the group disbanded not long after this release, Steve and Nate still perform on occasions; see Steve's website: themustardsuites.com, for upcoming shows. Also included the epic: Paris Under Covers, (not rated). Enjoy!
