An alternative blend of Funk, Jazz, Rock, Pop, and Blues driven by the powerful vocals and lyrics of Sharon Benson; rock-solid bass lines of Lewis Wolfe; steady, rhythmic drumming of Leslie Daniel; and sensitive, melodic keyboard of Chris Colquhoun 12 MP3 Songs POP: with Live-band Production, ROCK: Acoustic Details: "Benson is a fine singer who writes interesting, well crafted tunes." -James E. Fowler L.A. Times "Calendar" "Benson is a born performer. Her exuberant presence lights up the room. Benson gives it all she's got and then some - movin' and groovin'; encouraging audience participation and commanding undivided attention. Sharon Benson and friends put on a classy show, full of fun and memorable tunes . . ." -Neil E. Gorov Music Connection Magazine I just wanted to write a review about this incredible singer, songwriter and musician that I have been following for about four years now. I first came across Sharon Benson when she was in the band Token Angel. I enjoyed the band very much and found the lyrics very positive and spiritual. Sharon now fronts the band Soul Dogs with her Co-Producer from Token Angel, Lewis Wolfe. They have been making music together for years and have teamed up with Robert "Wayno" Switzer and Chris Colquhoun. They have great chemistry together and an incredible presence on stage. Sharon plays the violin and guitar with a true passion. Lewis adds a lot of soul on the bass, and Chris and Wayno will keep you tapping your feet. I've had the opportunity to see them on many occasions and I can say that the audience loved them. Soul Dogs often plays at Coffee Junction to a packed house that overflows into the parking lot. Sharon's energy and special ability to make eye contact with the entire house makes for an exciting performance, which feels like I'm being serenaded in my living room. Soul Dogs is a blend of rock, jazz, blues, soul and funk - something for everyone, guaranteed to get you dancing and even make you weep during their soulful ballads. I hope your readers will get the chance to see them soon. I've been in the entertainment industry for fifteen years and have seen a lot of artists come and go. I know Sharon and her music will be around for a long time. -Vicki Wright Warner
