"Together Again For The First Time" - Selected Poems by two of Baltimore, Maryland's Apathy Press Poets. 46 MP3 Songs SPOKEN WORD: Poetry Details: This CD of spoken word is dedicated to Joe Cardarelli who inspired young poets in Baltimore, Maryland for over two decades. While Joe was a professor of literature at MICA, he nurtured his students' love for the spoken word. Joe passed away on August 26, 1994 at the age of fifty. Among these young poets were Tom Diventi and Phil Smith who established The Apathy Project in 1977. The Apathy Project was a performance space on Lovegroove Alley, in Baltimore, Maryland. There, local poets, performance artists and musicians found a home to work on their craft. In 1986, Tom Diventi established Apathy Press. "Together Again For The First Time" is a second CD in a series of spoken word CD's which focuses on Baltimore poets who were greatly influenced by this poetry movement. Tom Diventi was born in Baltimore, Maryland. Founded Apathy Print in 1977 Tom about Tom - My Brief Bio I am currently living vicariously through people I believe to be on certain strange days. Phil Smith was born in Bethesda, Maryland. Co-founded Apathy Project in 1977. Phil about Phil - My Brief Bio On the occasional normal day, I will vicariously enter the real, natural and spiritual worlds, in search of meaningful answers to our endless questions. On this CD: Poems 1 - 31 written and read by Tom Diventi. Poems 32 - 46 written and read by Phil Smith. All poems are the sole property of the respective poets. All poems on this CD were recorded at Bird House Studios, Inc., Baltimore, Maryland in 2004.
